

Events at Crafts Council Gallery

The Crafts Council Gallery

The Gallery is an 18th century chapel, re-imagined through modern craftsmanship, to provide a beautiful and memorable setting, suitable for a range of events. A flexible space, that can provide an intimate setting for special events, host creative making workshops, and provide an inspiring backdrop to meetings and away days.

Situated in Angel, Islington, the Gallery on Pentonville Road is less than a 3-minute walk from Angel Underground (zone 1), on several central London bus routes, and just a 15-minute walk/5-minute bus ride from international transport hub Kings Cross-St Pancras.

Like the lining of a fine suit, the space is comfortable, carefully tailored and slightly surprising.”

– Financial Times architectural review

The Space

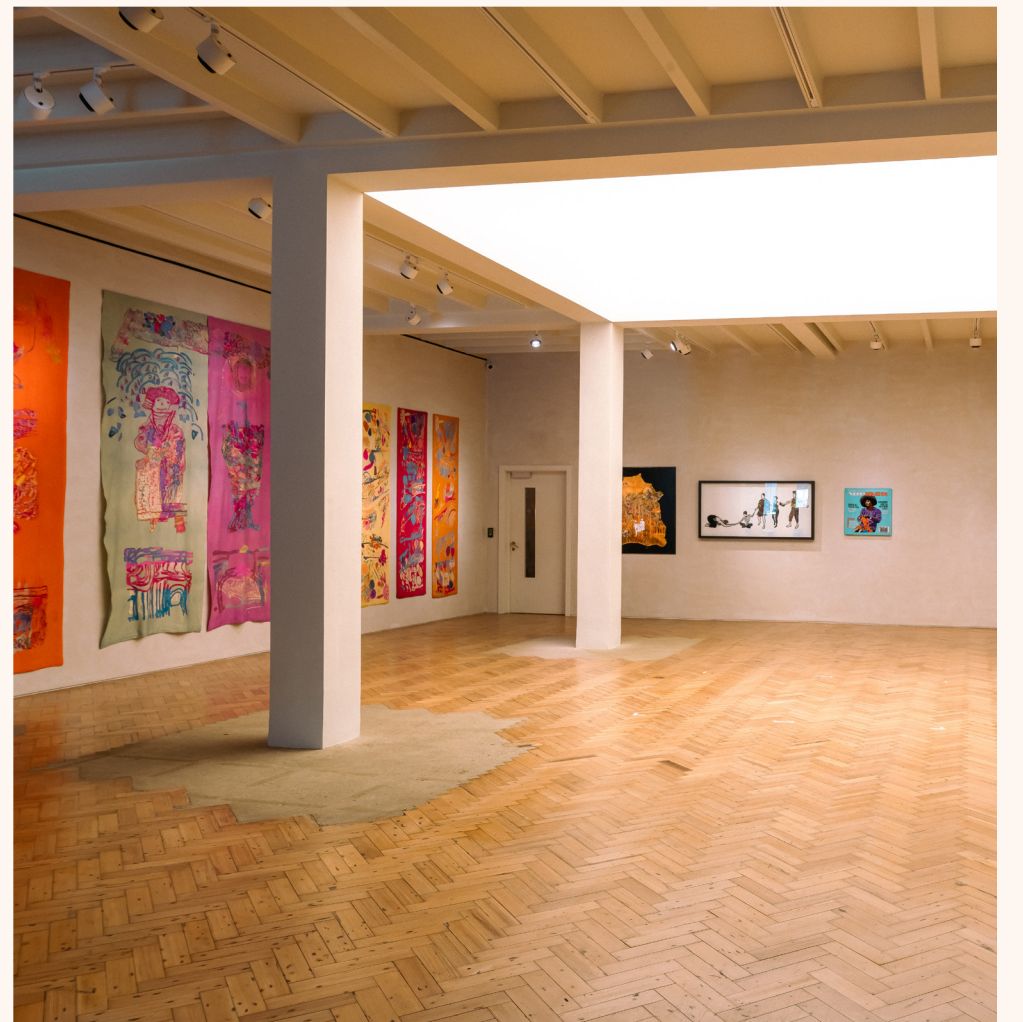

The Gallery comprises a 3-metre high space with a small library at one end, a separate light-filled foyer, and a spacious forecourt. The Gallery has clay plaster walls, restored original parquet flooring, ebonised chestnut and ash furniture and shelving by leading maker Sebastian Cox, ambient lighting and a re-laid and illuminated forecourt and steps providing an impressive entrance for guests.

We have successfully hosted a variety of events, from drinks receptions, product launches and photoshoots, to talks, meetings and craft workshops in the space. We can work with you to create the perfect environment for your event in one of the only spaces in London dedicated to craftsmanship and making.
