

ANNEMARIE O'SULLIVAN

SOLO EXHIBITIONS

2012 Cluster Fabrica, Brighton
A large-scale installation comprising a series of woven sculptures allowing the visitor to move in and around them. The work, combined with the architecture of the building, created both a social space in which to gather and play and a space of quiet contemplation.

GROUP EXHIBITIONS

2014	From Bare Stems	High Cross House Dartington
2013	Making Tracks	ONCA Brighton
2013	Inspirational Objects	Pump House Battersea
2012	Useful and Beautiful	Apricot Gallery London

SELECTED PROJECTS

2014 Craftplay Craftspace, The Happy Museums Project
A commission working with families in Wolverhampton to co-create play objects for Bilston Craft Gallery.

2013 The Bench Remains Maison de la Culture d'Amiens
I collaborated with metalworker Annie Slack in making a long bench in a woodland setting on an island in the river Somme with Corten and sweet chestnut as part of Art Cities Landscapes Amiens.

2013-14 Naughty Folklore The Brighton Mummers, Apple Day
The Sussex Scarp was a historical woven object, created by me. This was woven into a game which is not played annually at international level.

2013 The Great Windsor Chair Race Bovey Tracy
A collaboration with furniture makers Tom McWalter and William Warren creating a seat woven with hay.

2013 Furnas Willow project Furnas, The Azores
I led a project in the award winning Furnas Research and Monitoring Centre introducing new methods for using their willow collection.

2012 Circle Tower Hamlets, London
I led a 10-week weaving project working with elderly and young people, focusing on communication and memory.

2011 Outdoor Knitting Oak Grove College, Worthing
Lead artist at this special school, co-creating large and small sculptures with natural materials.
