

I am an established designer and maker working to commission for private and commercial clients from my glass studio at The Factory, Kendal, Cumbria.

I mainly work to commission, producing architectural glass, installations and interior accessories using a variety of glass forming techniques including, kiln casting, fusing, etching and cold working. Work takes the form of lighting, chandeliers, wall panels, splash backs, windows, doors and vessels.

I work closely with metal and lighting engineers, bespoke furniture makers, interior designers, architects and other specifiers.
